Marketplace Lit & Social Innov
Instructor Approval Required
Course explores topics related to social innovation, marketplace literacy, and microenterprise development in global subsistence marketplaces. Examines case studies of social and environmental problem solving through social innovation, appropriate technologies, and social enterprise development. Introduces bottom-up immersion and design techniques for understanding context and constraints in subsistence marketplaces, recognizing opportunities, and creating social value. Utilizes marketplace literacy and entrepreneurship education as a strategy for poverty alleviation and empowerment for people living in low-resource settings. This course is designed for students in Entrepreneurs Without Borders as a companion to a faculty-led short-term study abroad program, which includes experiential learning in marketplace literacy education and social enterprise consulting. Enrollment in the course does not include travel costs, which must be paid separately. Open to all majors. Prerequisite: Application process for Entrepreneurs Without Borders. For inquiries and applications, contact Valeri Werpetinski at werpetin@illinois.edu.

BUS 302  Principles Prof Responsibility  credit: 3 hours.

Examines in depth a number of the multi-dimensional attributes required to advance understanding of professional responsibility in the context of an ever-changing business environment, focusing on principles for addressing dilemmas that regularly arise in professional life in the work of business. Explores connections between academic integrity while in school and professional responsibility in later work life. Builds on BUS 101 and provides a breadth and depth of that body of knowledge that will enable highly successful students in BUS 302 to be considered for the role of section leaders in BUS 101. Aspiring section leaders in BUS 101 must have excelled in BUS to be considered for the position. Prerequisite: BUS 101; by application and interview.

BUS 399  Business Study Abroad  credit: 0 TO 18 hours.

Upon prior written approval of the College of Business’ Office of Undergraduate Affairs, a student may earn up to 18 credit hours per term undertaking a study and/or research project in international business at accredited foreign institutions or approved overseas programs. Final determination of appropriate credit will be made upon completion of the work done abroad. While absent from the Urbana-Champaign campus, the student must continue to pay all fees required by the University of Illinois to retain continuity of enrollment and to allow the time spent away from this campus to count toward residency. Approved for both letter and S/U grading. Maximum of 18 hours per term and 36 hours total. Prerequisite: One academic year (or one semester in the case of transfer students) in residence at UIUC, good academic standing, completion of at least thirty semester hours toward the bachelor's degree, and prior approval of course work by the College of Business’ Office of Undergraduate Affairs. Some programs have additional requirements.
